

Inspiration

For the Mystical Journey with Christ
August 2010

Welcome to our new Inspiration Magazine format.

We are forever growing and evolving in the light of Christ.

Chapelito has been renovated.

This original chapel of Questhaven has received some much needed love and care. It is now a beautiful house of reverence for worship and study. It is dedicated to our Lord Christ and His Hierarchy of perfected ones who serve God. We are calling it:
The Hall of Wholeness.

Be Light filled! Be Light cleansed! Be Light ensouled!

Flower A. Newhouse

Dear Spiritual Family and Friends,

What a wonderful age stands before us! These words do not flow forth from what the outer world brings us, but what our inner journey calls for us. This is our time.

It is the opportunity for us to finally meet the God-given potential that each of us has been given. It is time for us to realize that our limitations should not define us. This is not part of our True Identity in God – of whose powers and capabilities we have been invested. We have come into this earth as humans to recover this sense of God awareness.

Flower writes, “The discriminating soul will recognize his need for God as a constant need. He may experience lapses, but he quickly returns to recollectedness about this First Importance.”

It is helpful to realize that angels evolve through service to God. Humans evolve by surrendering self to God. The journey of life is not marked by how many human things we can do or accumulate before the end. It is about what we have earned divinely through surrender that lifts us into God’s kingdom of light more purely.

Whenever I want to examine how I am doing in this regard, I start looking at how I am spending my time each day. This is a good reality check because we always make time for what we truly want to do consciously or unconsciously.

Each of us must ask the question, “How do I want to spend the valuable time I have on earth?”

What of time for the reception of illumination, of intuition, of our relationship with Christ, of the ability to be masters of ourselves in this particular moment of time over some temptation or distraction which is at hand?

Let us attune ourselves to the shores of the Everlasting to discover those answers – to recover our oneness with God and the Real Higher Nature that exists within us.

And so this wonderful age before us calls for the emergence of our higher selves – to surrender our will to God's.

As the hymn says: Therefore with joy our song shall soar in praise to God for evermore.

May God give you wings.

Your Brother in Christ,
Reverend Blake Isaac

This prayer was given by Flower at the close of a service in 1955 in Chapelito.

In the Grand March of Eternity, it is only life in the present which is important. What we are doing with Today makes it a heaven or a prison to us.
