The Guiding Influence of Our Guardian Angels

Taken from the teachings of
The Reverend Flower A. Newhouse

By Lucy Wold

Guardian Angels are Angels of Destiny who serve God by working for the spiritual progress of human beings. They are distinguished from other Angels by Their pale pink auras and golden radiations in the area of Their hearts. Your Guardian Angel's very large eyes send you beams of the purest love for She is your spiritual mother and your most constant companion lifetime after lifetime until you reach the third degree of initiation. She remains at your right side most of the time but comes to the front of your aura when she has something very important to tell you or when she is warning you of danger. A Guardian's relationship with Her charge is the longest continuing partnership between human and Angel. Although not permitted to give you Her spiritual name, She would like you to choose a name for Her that resonates with you. Using a name when you address your Guardian brings a special closeness with Her.

We do not earn a Guardian Angel until we turn our attention to God and yearn deeply for self-conquest. When your longing to know God grows intense, a simultaneous graduation occurs—you earn the right to have a Guardian Angel and your Guardian graduates from Watcher Angel to Guardian Angel and takes Her place at your right side. She is aware of your Life Plan, your destiny, your karma and your place on the spiritual path. Although she is aware of your shortcomings and immaturities, She is drawn to you because she sees your great potential for growth. She studies you each day, awaiting your readiness and looking for an opportunity to chisel away a bit of your ego self to reveal who you really are. Your Guardian's help is always available. She waits for you to be flexible, to be teachable and to ask for Her help. Sometimes She is achingly honest in pointing out your mistakes, but She does it with a LOVE for you far greater than any human love you will ever know.

Pay attention when your Guardian stirs you with music, art, a sunrise or sunset, dreams or intuitions. Be open to Her promptings when She brings you serendipitous happenings, divinely inspired coincidences, or a special symbol placed on the ground in front of you, Call on Her in the name of Christ when you are looking for lost articles and watch for the special significance in a book, a relationship, a circumstance or an event that comes to your attention.

Flower laments that it is so rare that people pray for the Angels. She suggests that, especially at Michaelmas, we pray for our Guardian Angels—pray that God will bring Them greater joy and progress in Their work. This Michaelmas let us not only honor the Angels but pray for Them as well. The endless blessings They bring to each of us each day is far beyond our knowing.

Michaelmas Retreat

Don't miss a real opportunity to deepen your awareness of the loving help you receive from your Guardian Angel. Bring a friend and share in this wonderful experience beginning this Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Church of the Holy Quest.
