For the Mystical Journey with Christ
November 2010

Dear Spiritual Family and Friends,

The recent rains have encouraged a fresh coat of green upon the floor of Questhaven. As the new shoots of life stretch forth, it is a good reminder of what is before us as another Christmas approaches in the earthly journey of our soul.

Help Us Digitize Flower's Work for the Future

How wonderful would it be to hear St. Francis offer a prayer? Or listen to Pythagoras speak?

We have a treasure house of audio and video recordings of one of the leading Christian Mystics of the 20th Century.

Please help us

- 1) preserve her work digitally for generations to come*
- 2) put her work in a form which we can utilize in church services, the*

Like the rain, it is the growing Christ influence upon us that is awakening the inner seeds of our future being in God. Every year, He travels from the Adonaic region of the inner worlds from Thanksgiving to the Etheric levels on Christmas Day. This is very near the physical region where we live and function. It is the closest He comes all year.

Why does He make this journey every year?
Why do we have Christmas?

Flower says Christ comes to bring the Light of heaven down into the world each year. I know it is this Light that will bring the birth of my future becoming in Christ—awakening to the fullness of Christ within. So as the brightening in our atmosphere begins in early November in internet, CDs, mp3 players and video voice-overs.

We have already raised $4,700. Our goal is $18,000.

preparation for the coming Christ, let us feel the brightening also within our beings—awakening us to our higher selves.

These are the things we are pondering this Holy Season at Questhaven. Each year we strive to know a deeper Christmas experience. As I was walking home from choir practice the other evening, I was prompted by my Guardian Angel to be more loving. The next day I listened to a talk by Flower where she mentioned that our greatest gift to Christ at Christmas is to love. The message I needed to hear seemed loud and clear. Please join us in discovering new heights of this transcendent quality this Advent season—love.

As the Great Ones say, "Let it be an emblazoned love, inclusive in width, incisive in its carrying qualities, its invigoration into the spirits of others for their uplift and their encouragement."

I cannot think of a better way to experience Christmas and the Christ's coming than to be more loving.

And so as we rise in our efforts—our Christ descends to meet us. What a beautiful image to meditate upon!

May you ever be blessed and mantled with His love.

Your Brother in Christ,
Reverend Blake Isaac

Let our devotion to the Lord Jesus guide and teach us how to spend a truly spiritual Christmas, a Day by which all other days can be patterned. If we prepare for Christmas and greet it as Christ's Day, it shall become an extraordinary event, a benediction and a visitation.
